The chestnut crop is a good one; and the nuts here are offered at a dollar a bushel.

The rainy spell makes dull trade, and our dealers are very demurely sitting down pondering the silver question.

The streets show the beneficent effects of good rains. Everything is washed away, and there is a cleanliness and a pleasant odor that does not belong to a town, a hint is given. Good drainage is an essential among a thickly populated settlement.

The Murphy Bulletin give an account of a most interesting revival of religion which has just occurred in that town. It succeeded in adding very largely to the church, including the prominent citizens of the place. The Bulletin notes marked improvement in the community on account thereof.

MARRIED. On Wednesday night, Rev. Mr. Cartoll officiating, at the residence of Mr. I. F. Sorrells, Mr. George A. Sorrells and Miss Sallie K. Goodlake.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ASHEVILLE AND WILMINGTON. The Wilmington Star says: "Some one who has found an umbrella to advertise for its owner in the Asheville Citizen. We are inclined to doubt his sanity. We have never before known a lost umbrella to be given the least chance of getting back home. If the finder of one in Wilmington should advertise for the owner, Dr. Potter would immediately institute a commission de mandato inquiring."

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS. Mr. John Boring goes to Elk Crk, Va., Mr. Bowman, to Seddon, Va., Mr. J. P. Frazier, Presiding Elder, to Jeffersonville, Mr. H. J. Keith, to Bristol station, Mr. G. D. French, Presiding Elder of Jonesboro dist., Mr. W. C. Cardin, to Morrisville, A. W. Curtis, to Newport Circuit, Mr. G. C. Rankin, Market street, Chattanooga, Mr. T. C. Shuler, Roseville station.

MESSES. MALONE & BOWMAN. We direct attention to the announcement of Messrs. Malone & Bowman, who have formed a co-partnership for the practice of law. Gen. Bowman and Major Malone are too well known to need commendation at our hands, both being successful practitioners for several years, and one of the firm has gained large distinction as the author of a very valuable law book. We wish the new firm much success.

A mail reached the city yesterday evening about six o'clock, having been delayed all day at the mountain section on account of slides near Licklog tunnel.

I herewith call your attention to my well assorted stock of Fancy China and Bohemian Glassware in all colors. Earthen and Stoneware, Japanese and Chinese wares in great variety. Silverware, Table Cutlery and Trays. I am offering extra inducements in price till Nov. 1st, in order to reduce stock.

New Enterprises. Making our city the leading business spot of North Carolina. Col. Wm. Chadworth, the proprietor of No. 3 Main st., has arranged to open a fine auction house and under selling every body regardless of cost or profits.

OUR FRIEND DR. VANDIVER

Sends the following note in response to the pleasantry we indulged in a few days ago at his expense. We know our friend feels the liveliest interest in all this beautiful section, and often have we sat at his feet, like Paul at the feet of Gamaliel, and learned wisdom concerning this great country, and its needs to make it the grandest in the South. But to the letter:

WEAVERVILLE, 26th inst. MESSRS. EDITORS.—I am sure your remarks in Friday's issue were made in the purest kindness; but am fearful they may produce inferences that I am cool towards the Fair and the city. To show that I am not, I sent samples to Mr. Gardens in the former, and in 1871, when a large gathering of friends to a rail road from Spartanburg to Asheville was held in the old court house, after Col. Cannon and several others were through, at the instance of a very influential gentleman, I arose and made a very short, but strong talk. And when the "proceedings" came from the press, the flaming speeches of every one of the others was alluded to, and not a word about the flights of truthful eloquence, with which I had "swayed the giddy throng," on the same occasion. Of course my conclusion was, that an ordinary man, could be of very little service to an extraordinary community; and that for the time to come, I should "paddle my own canoe," mostly. But if the points in that little speech—doomed to "blush unseen,"—had been heeded, the trains would have been snorting and screaming into Asheville more than six years ago. But for the present city of Asheville, its teeming pushing thousands, I am in the purest sympathy. I hope it may increase, until you can send your servants to my Garden gate, and take home the cabbage seed, without the trouble of mailing them.

You talk about "sitting cross-legged," which I do. The position indicates thought. You never see a successful student that don't "cross his legs." But when I "chew," I don't chew the "bitter end" of anything; I chew the sweet end, if it has any, and if it hasn't, I fling it away. Of course I have a moderate feeling of regret at the existence of numerous things. But I always guard against "overloading the team." I regret that our Fairs often have more race horses and whisky than tend to the general good. I regret that our county town, now merging into cityhood, the great paragon for all our small towns and villages—don't have all the liveries and back doors of shops and saloons closed up on the Lord's day, and every body invited to church and to their knees. I regret that "T. C. W." who writes very smoothly, can't find some one—dead or alive—more deserving a place in history than the devil. Many of his points are not intelligible to children and young people, and will be apter to do harm than good. If there is no devil in the world, there is a pretty smart sprinkling of bad men and women. "W." doesn't want the youth of the county to imitate them. As visiting the city only once in seven years, there is no foundation for the tale. I go where I please, and when I transact my business I go back home. I think very well of the habits of a British gentleman by the name of Wesley, whose invariable rule was, to go nowhere unless he had business, and when he transacted his business he went back. I have hundreds and thousands of warm friends in Asheville, for any or all of whom, I would do anything in my power, except make a rail road speech. The echoes of the one I made—long since "washed upon the desert air,"—is all they can get out of me.

Truly, etc., J. W. VANDIVER.

TOBACCO.

Our Warehouses, Sales, &c.

The sales were light in all the warehouses Wednesday and Thursday and the prices ranged lower than for several days. The weather was very inclement—rain falling generally throughout both days, rendering it very inconvenient for dealers to handle tobacco. The new crop has been coming in briskly during the past week and prices for this season have, in the main, been satisfactory to the farmers. The sales of leaf on this market for the year ending Oct 1st show a footing of 3,306, 339 lbs, and as the crop in the territory which contributes to this market is much larger this year—some tobacco men think the amount will be more than doubled. On account of the anticipated increase the warehousemen, manufacturers and dealers are making all necessary arrangements to handle with proper dispatch all that comes to this market. All the warehouses are now fully equipped and in good running order and are prepared to furnish all necessary comfort and accommodation for the farmers and their teams.

FARMER'S WAREHOUSE.

The Farmer's Warehouse is in charge of Messrs. Smith, Nelson and Rollins. Mr. J. M. Smith is an extensive farmer of Madison county and has been dealing in leaf tobacco for some ten or twelve years. He cultivates about one hundred acres in tobacco annually. Maj. W. Rollins is also a large tobacco grower of Madison, probably the largest in the South. He had about five hundred acres in cultivation the past season. These two gentlemen are progressive farmers and know how to look after the farmer's interest. Mr. J. W. Nelson is the active business man of the house and his experience in the tobacco business renders him specially fit for that work. He was connected with the big tobacco house of Lee, Taylor & Co. of Lynchburg for three years and has been at the Farmers' Warehouse for nearly two years. Mr. G. W. Morgan, from Lynchburg is floor manager. Mr. E. B. Davis, from Danville, is auctioneer, and has been selling tobacco for fifteen years. Mr. J. A. Campbell is book keeper, and Mr. J. M. Young assistant. Messrs. T. C. Brown, Leicester, W. H. Hunter, Alexandria, W. C. Sam Marshall, D. M. Williams, Haywood, are associated with this house in the capacity of solicitors. The floor at this house is 50x150.

FARMER'S WAREHOUSE.

Messrs. Drummond and Perry are proprietors of the Banner Warehouse. Mr. Drummond has had eighteen years experience in handling tobacco. He was a leaf dealer in Danville Va. for thirteen years and has been connected with the Asheville tobacco market for nearly four years, and is ever ready to turn his experience to the benefit of those who patronize his house. Mr. Perry has charge of the office. He is from New York State and is a man of much experience in book keeping and business life. He is assisted by Mr. S. S. Perkins. Mr. T. H. Morris who has been floor manager for three years holds the same position this year. Mr. R. W. Crenshaw, from Lynchburg, who has been in the tobacco business since he was fifteen years old, retains his position as auctioneer. Messrs. J. E. Rogers, of Haywood and W. M. Worley of Uncombe, are solicitors. The Banner sold about 1,300,000 lbs during the year ending Oct 1st and with the addition of 40x70 feet to their already large floor space it will have the capacity to largely increase the sales this year.

ASHEVILLE WAREHOUSE.

Messrs. Chambers, West & Co. are proprietors. Mr. Nat T. Chambers has been with the house since it was built and his experience in handling tobacco and his extended acquaintance with the people make him a very suitable man for his work. Mr. W. W. West is from Savannah, Ga., where he for some time was extensively engaged in handling cotton. He is a practical business man and with his long experience in office work the books are sure to be kept correctly. He is assisted in this department by Mr. J. A. Fanning. Mr. Thos L. Brown is floor manager and Mr. Henry Carter auctioneer. Mr. W. T. Reynolds is also associated in the management of this house. Floor space, 60x200.

BUNCOMBE WAREHOUSE.

Messrs. West, Childs and Stevens, proprietors. Capt. S. B. West, formerly of Kingston, N. C. was one among the first to engage in the sale of leaf tobacco in Asheville. He was connected with Mr. J. D. Wilder in the Pioneer Warehouse on Willow street, afterwards he had charge of the Madison Warehouse at Marshall in this city for one year. He was with the assistance of Mr. Barber, does the office work. Dr. J. M. Stevens is in charge of the floor, assisted by Mr. J. J. Summerlin. The doctor is a native of Buncombe and for many years has been engaged in farming, raising tobacco and practicing his profession at Leicester in this county. Mr. L. Childs is a successful merchant and farmer from Sandy Mush in this county, and has also had considerable experience in handling leaf tobacco. Mr. J. Y. Barber, the auctioneer, was from Salisbury, but for two years was auctioneer and manager of the Planter's Warehouse at Waynesville. The following gentlemen solicit custom for this house: S. B. Cooper and D. J. Ferguson, of Swain; Jesse Noland, Haywood; Mr. Black, Weaverville, Buncombe; N. M. Tweed, Madison; J. A. Justice, Cokes county, Tennessee.

SALE OF FURNITURE.

At 11 o'clock Saturday morning I will sell at public auction, on the court house square, an elegant lot of household and kitchen furniture. Oct 29-2t. J. H. CARTER.

ORDERS A WAY OFF.

Mr. F. W. Joslyn, our new merchant tailor and clothier, has received an order from a prominent citizen of Big Rapids, Mich., Mr. J's late home, for a fine suit of clothes. The point in this is that Mr. Joslyn's character for first-class goods and work was established there and "left its impression behind." Mr. J. will fill the orders at once, and is ready to supply all orders from home folks or others, and will send to any part of the continent. He has just filled an order from Austin, Texas.

Death of Gen. McClellan.

General George B. McClellan died suddenly at his residence on Orange Mountain at about midnight last night from heart disease. Gen. McClellan died shortly after midnight last night from neuralgia of the heart. He returned home about six weeks ago from his trip west, with his family and had been under the care of his physician for about two weeks. Nothing serious was expected until yesterday when he became worse. He died surrounded by his family at St. Cloud, Orange Mountain where he had lived for twenty years. Invitations had been issued for a reception this morning. Gen. McClellan's summer home was on the summit of Orange Mountain next to that of his father-in-law, Gen. Marci. The whole community was shocked by the news of his death. Flags are flying at half mast and the Grand Army post has called a meeting to express their sorrow and offer a body guard for the remains. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made. Gen. McClellan was an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Russia's Anticipations.

London, Oct. 29. Dispatches from St. Petersburg to day state that the Russian Cabinet officials allege that Austria and Serbia are intriguing for territorial aggrandizement detrimental to Russian interests in the Balkan peninsula. Their information must have been received from what they consider a reliable source as Russia has for the past few days been secretly arming with a view of being prepared at any moment, should a contingency arise to assert her claims in the Balkan States.

LONDON'S GREAT SENSATION.

The Stead Trial. LONDON, Oct. 29. Mr. Stead, editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, resumed his address in the trial of the defendants in the Armstrong abduction case immediately after the opening of the Central criminal court to-day. At its conclusion Mrs. Rebecca Jarratt, one of the prisoners began her testimony in behalf of the defence.

New York Stock Market.

The stock market has been moderately active and irregular, somewhat feverish, but generally heavy during past hour. First prices were irregular but changes were only for 1-8 to 2-4 per cent in either direction, although Pacific Mill was 3-8 higher. After opening the market was heavy, although the whole market soon rallied to about opening figures, while St. Paul advanced 3-4 and Reading 1-1-4 per cent. The advance was soon checked, and the general market became weak, declining from 1-4 to 5-8 per cent below opening figures, Vanderbilt's and Pacific Mail being especially weak in the latter part of the hour. At 11 o'clock the market is moderately active and firm.

Attempt to Assassinate M. De Freycinet, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs.

PARIS, Oct. 29. Considerable excitement was created here to-day by an attempt to assassinate M. De Freycinet, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs. After attending a Cabinet meeting M. De Freycinet took a drive over Pont Concord at noon, and while returning to the building occupied by the Minister of foreign affairs, a man stepped out into the road and fired a pistol directly at the carriage in which was seated M. De Freycinet. Fortunately the shot was harmless, and before the culprit could fire again he was arrested by a police officer who happened to be near the scene of the outrage.
